

THE ORIGINS OF BUDDHISM

- Buddhism originated in northern _____ around 500 BC from the teachings of a man named _____
- What was Siddhartha's childhood like and how did his view of the world change?
- He dedicated his life to understanding the truths of the world through what he called the _____

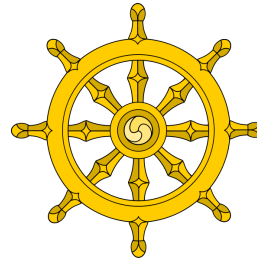

CENTRAL IDEAS OF BUDDHISM

- Upon attaining _____, Siddhartha became known as the _____
- Why is Buddhism not considered a religion?
- As with Hinduism, _____ is central to Buddhism and _____ plays an important role in the cycle of _____

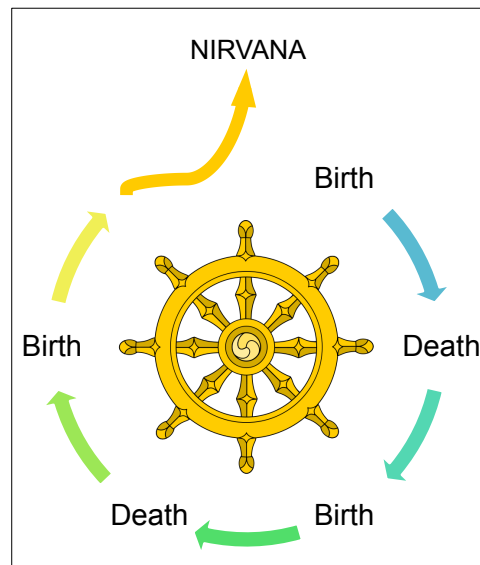

CENTRAL IDEAS OF BUDDHISM

- Buddha's teachings involved the _____:
 - All life involves _____
 - Suffering is caused by _____
 - Suffering can be overcome
 - The way to end desire is to follow the _____

CENTRAL IDEAS OF BUDDHISM

- Buddha rejected the _____ through his belief that no one has an advantage in seeking _____ and that no one is different from anyone else
- Through attaining _____ (awakening or enlightenment) a person can be released from samsara and achieve _____

Each person is in charge of his or her own destiny